

Corporate subscriber discount for sponsors

Sponsor this year's conference and join us* as a corporate subscriber at special rates

(* ... or re-join us, or claim a partial refund on your existing corporate subscription – all offers valid until 19 September 2017)

If you care about the quality of written content produced by your organisation, the SfEP welcomes you as a corporate subscriber. Join the many other organisations, including Cambridge University Press, the Scottish Parliament and the Stationery Office, that share our aim of upholding editorial excellence.

As a corporate subscriber you'll receive the following benefits:

- Free Editing Matters – the SfEP bi-monthly e-magazine
- Free advertising to find freelancers and staff – reaching all SfEP Professional and Advanced Professional Members via our online announcement system
- Discounted training course rates – 25% off professional training on a wide range of editorial skills
- Preferential in-house training rates – CPD courses tailor-made to meet your staff needs
- Discounted individual subscription rates – 20% to 50% off for your staff to receive the benefits of SfEP membership directly
- Discounted conference fees – 10% (or 15% for a Platinum sponsor) off conference places in addition to any complimentary places included in your sponsorship package

Corporate subscription rates

Rates for corporate subscribers are banded according to the number of editorial workers in your organisation; i.e. those who proofread, edit, write or project-manage copy for publication.
